NARROW ESCAPE FOR GROSECLOSE

Tazewell Boy Thrown Under Train at Tip Top and Loses Leg—News of Tip Top

Estill Groseclose, about 22 years old, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Groseclose, of this town, met with an accident last Wednesday morning early, which necessitated the amputation of his left leg between the knee and ankle. The operation was successfully performed at the sanitarium here on Wednesday morning, and the patient, now at his home, is doing well.

The circumstances and facts, as far as can be gathered from conflicting reports are as follows: Groseclose, in company with other young men from this town, went to Witten's Mills on Tuesday night to attend the closing exercises of the school there. When he arrived there he was in no condition, it is said, to attend the exercises, and had to be helped from the mule which he rode, having imbibed too freely from a shipment of liquor which he had received the same day. After the exercises closed he was found still unable to walk, and was taken by some of his friends and laid on a store porch, he having refused to go anywhere. Some of the boys report that they tried to get him on a horse to bring him home, but could not do so. Later in the night he started home, west. Instead he went east and was found a mile east of Tip Top, by section men, early the next morning, lying on the side of the track, one foot severed entirely just above the ankle. It is stated that Groseclose says that he thought he was coming home, and got "turned around," when he struck the railroad track at Witten's Mills. He was struck by an east bound train, not about 11 o'clock, as reported, as there was no train east over the N. and W. at that time. The train, a light engine and perhaps a caboose, passed the depot here between 5 and 6 o'clock Wednesday morning. This is the car that struck him. He was at Witten's Mills when the freight train passed west, between ten and eleven o'clock Tuesday night. Groseclose can give only a confused account of the whole matter. However, he has awakened from a frightful dream, which was not all a dream. His parents and sisters have the deepest sympathy. They have had their share of sorrow, caused chiefly, if not entirely by too much liquor. And yet the boys won't be warned.

Tip Top

Tip Top, April 14.—Tuesday night, a young man named Groseclose, of Tazewell, had a foot ground off near Bell Hill Siding. He seemed to know but little about the accident. It seems that he had been at Witten's Mills until about 11 o'clock in the night, when, as report has it, he had some trouble and left.

It is not known, so far, whether he was walking on the track, or had fallen off a train. He had crawled over a hundred yards and up a steep embankment, after being knocked or rolled away from the track. The man's foot was lying on the track at the place where cut off, when the man was found. He is said to have been game and plucky, insisting on getting up on the car which the section men brought down from the station. Several pieces of bones and flesh were found, which were reverently buried by some boys who found them.

Houston Moore had a cow hurt so badly about the same time and supposedly by the same train which crippled Groseclose, that she will be killed today.

McTeer Saunders and the McDowell boys lost several sheep last week, killed by dogs. Mr. Reese Puckett, on the Peery place, had five or six killed about the same time. Mr. Saunders, also had the misfortune to lose a fine Jersey heifer, which he had given his daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Joyce, of Portsmouth, Ohio.

Well, we have had more high water in our vicinity within the last few days than for several years.

We have more empty corn cribs, empty hay pens, straw pens and empty barns also than we have seen for a long time.

December, January, February and March all turned in their time, resigned and went away to parts unknown and left poor little April to finish up the job, and so far he seems to understand his business.

The annual meeting of Stockholders of the Clinch Valley Coal and Iron Company, for the election of Directors and the transaction of such other business as may be presented, will be held at the office of the Company in Jeffersonville, Tazewell Court House, Tazewell County, Virginia, May 1st, 1912, at four o'clock, p. m.

Sunday School Meeting.

On Sunday afternoon a meeting was held by a few representatives of the Sunday Schools of the town, and the Banner was awarded to the school making the highest percentage of attendance during the first quarter of the year 1912. Reports were handed in from three of the five schools in the town, and the percentage stood: Christian church, 64; Methodist, 62; Baptist, 60. The Christian school was awarded the banner, and will hold it until won by some other school. It was appointed that a mass meeting of the schools be held in the Christian church, on the last Sunday in June, to determine what school shall hold the banner for the next quarter. The school making the highest percentage of attendance during the second quarter will be declared the Banner school for that quarter. This generous rivalry will help to increase attendance and encourage regular attendance of the pupils.

Rev. J. N. Harman, President of the County Association, was appointed a delegate from the county to the annual meeting, which is held in Harrisonburg, April 19-21, and any other member of any school in the county who can attend this meeting will be appointed a delegate.

Plans for the Annual County Convention were discussed. The meeting will be held about July 1st, as last year, and probably held at Graham.

Upon motion, the ministers of the town and every minister in the county, was requested to preach a sermon on the Second Sunday in this month on some phase of the great Sunday School question.

At this meeting there was present the following: Besides the President and Secretary, Rev. E. E. Wiley, C. R. Brown, T. A. Repass, K. C. Patty and J. A. Leslie, Jr., a number of ladies—Sister O'Keefe, Mrs. O'Brien and a number of Sunday School children came in as the meeting was closing. It is not to be taken it is hoped, that the attendance on this occasion is indicative of the interest felt in Sunday Schools by the church people of the town.

Pensioners

The Confederate Pension Board will sit in the Clerk's office at Tazewell on the 22nd day of April, 1912, for the purpose of amending and correcting the list of pensioners.

HARD LICKS FOR THE PARCELS POST

Major Tynes Thinks Present Condition of Roads Will Not Permit Deliveries.

Editor C. V. News:—Availing myself of your recent invitation, anent the Parcels Post, I submit as follows: The Hon. C. B. Slomp has, very properly, as we see it, referred the matter of a "Parcels Post" law to his constituency, of all parties in the Ninth district, which he has the honor to represent. This being the first time for many moons that this writer has been consulted on a subject of so much importance by the ruling powers, and the very first time he has been made the subject of the "Referendum," he hastened to reply, by answering Mr. Slomp's three questions, as propounded through his circular of recent date, as succinctly and as fully as we, with our limited information, was able to do. In the first place we are unalterably opposed to the "Initiative, Referendum and Recall" as the settled policy of a representative government. In this case we used the privilege so courteously extended to us and replied to his interrogatives, practically, as follows:

1st. Do you favor a general Parcels Post?

I do not.

2nd. Do you favor a Parcels Post...

... limited to R. F. D. parcels?

Less than a general law.

3rd. What is the sentiment of your community regarding both these questions?

As it looks to this writer there are several reasons, most of which are satisfactory in themselves, against the system in either form as proposed. However, as to discuss these would unduly lengthen this paper, we will confine our reply to the Congressman's three questions.

FIRST—

In a country like ours of long distances, so vast in expanse, sparsely settled, with comparatively limited transportation, with a very large proportion of such roads as never before vexed a people, the Parcels Post would be found a rather troublesome and a very costly system, by no means the cheap or convenient luxury its advocates endeavor to show up, all the expense of which will, in the last analysis, come out of the people—the tax payers.

SECOND—

This, as we see it, would not be constitutional, as it certainly would be class legislation of the boldest and most unblushing variety, discriminating, as it would do, against those who were removed from the favored routes.

THIRD—

This is, at this date, a very difficult question to answer intelligently or satisfactorily. However, as we have been challenged, from more than one quarter for reasons for our opposition to the Parcels Post and in partial reply to this third interrogation from Mr. Slomp, we desire as briefly as may be, to offer at least two more among many, reasons for our objections to the system. A Parcels Post would be, practically, ruin to the business of the country and village merchant. It is unnecessary to discuss how the Parcels Post is to affect the business class referred to—this is apparent to the dullest. It is the WHY, that vitally concerns us at present. We could get volumes of reasons why we should have the system. Political leaders on the Make would make our rural citizenship believe that all he has to do, practically, is to receive his goods at his front gate—yes, provided he has the price, if not, then he must do without as the system he has very probably voted for, has ruined and run out of his neighborhood his old friend and "grubstaker," who perhaps never refused credit, and would patiently wait for his pay until the crops were matured, or the stock sold. The great department stores and the great and bloated mercantile organizations of our cities, now behind this movement, will, if heeded by those who do not stop to think for themselves, induce them to believe that the greatest service ever rendered a country citizen is to come through the Parcels Post. Replying to our Congressman, the writer declined to even attempt to approximate the trend of public opinion. We did say, that in our daily intercourse with our fellows, we find among the business men of middle and mature age and experience, men who are in the habit of thinking for themselves, few friendly to the Parcels Post. They do not forget that numerous class, known as the country and village storekeeper, an integral part of our population, constituting a very large body, and for intelligence, industry, usefulness, courage and patriotic devotion to duty and country has not been and will not be excelled if even approached, by any other class of our people. Let us rather stand by these "grub-stakers" of the small farmer, the renter and the laborer. He has stood by our fathers, in their conquest of forest and flood, from the wave lashed shores of our eastern coast, to the Golden Gate and sands of the broad Pacific. Again, and "don't forget," that the ink that prints such a law upon our national records, will scarcely be dried, in these days of "Big Business," ere the formation, led by the great mercantile organizations already alluded to, will organize a huge mercantile trust, beside which those of tobacco, oil and steel will look like thirty cents, and make Morgan, if he isn't in—turn green with envy. We are being told that it is our duty to help fight the "rascally express cos." We are not going to defend carriers of special traffic. Very probably they deserve all the criticisms which are leveled at them. But is it necessary, is it admissible or even excusable, that a great Government like ours finds it necessary, in order to compel a common or special carrier to be honest, to proceed, urged by a policy, a POLITICAL EXPEDIENCY, as doubtful in morals as is the charges against the express corporations, who to the daily shame of the government are allowed to snap their fingers in its face, we ask, is it necessary, in order to control these derelict corporations, to sacrifice the business interests of the country and village merchant, which reaches into every nook and corner of our broad land. This splendid class of our most useful citizens, in order that our law-makers and those engaged in their enforcement, may be able to get at and punish mere law-breakers, i. e., the express corporations.

"Woe worth the day," when our national government becomes so immersed in party politics as to forget and neglect the exercise of its greater functions, i. e., the equal protection of the interest of every class of its citizens engaged in honest and legitimate pursuits, without resorting to the oppression of one class in the interest of another, however powerful it may be.

A. J. TYNES.

Tazewell, Va., April 1.

How's This?

It is suggested, that instead of sending delegates to the State Convention that we call a meeting of the County Committee, and by resolution authorize a properly delegated man to say to the State convention that Tazewell has about 1500 votes which she will put into the pool, and let the State convention authorize Senator Martin or Congressman Swanson to cast the entire 24 votes of the State for any candidate they may think best and most suitable. This would avoid a great deal of expense and worry, and would be what we will virtually do if we send unscrupulous delegations. Is this "A foolish suggestion?" Of course it is, and undemocratic as well, but none the less so than the suggestion that the entire delegation be delegated to do nothing in particular, but as they "think best."

Egg Stories

Wm. Walk was here on Wednesday and brought some wonderful egg stories. He has been clerking in J. P. Neel and Co's. store for several weeks, and reports that Neel and Co., had shipped 1200 dozen eggs this week, and averages about 600 dozen per week. There are two other stores in the Valley, and these are in the egg business, also, and ship in large numbers. Walk declared he was telling the truth, and could prove it. We ask Joe Neel and Jim Buchanan to come forward and back up Walk's egg story. The hens of that good country are made up of all breeds. The Rhode Island Reds and Langshans are said to be in the lead there as egg producers. We beg to be excused from further comment.

Nix on the Hogs

The Town Council's new hog ordinance has had the effect already of causing a number of people to sell their pigs after feeding them through a severe winter. They could not afford to build a pen of the required dimensions and the kind required, and hence thought best to sell out, even at a sacrifice. The Council could have demanded that pens be kept clean, but to require that they shall contain several hundred square feet of space and room was entirely unnecessary. A small pen can be kept clean easier than a large one. However, it is all over. A pig sty is a filthy place at best, and an ordinance prohibiting their existence in town at all would not be extreme. Let them tackle the dirty and filthy back alleys and outhouses, and give some heed to the open sewer down Tazewell avenue standing water in closed ditches, ect., before summer time comes.

Frost-proof cabbage plants ready to put out. Should be put out at once. Price 10c. per doz. 25c. for 3 doz. If by mail add 5 cents for postage.

TAZEWELL FAIR ON SEPTEMBER 17-19

Satisfactory Dates Arranged for the Big Show of Southwest Here this Fall.

The Secretary of the Fair Association, Mr. H. C. Pobst, has just returned from Greensboro, N.C., where he attended a general business meeting of the Virginia-Carolina-Georgia Fair Circuit, Captain Samuel Walton, the President, was present.

The object of Mr. Pobst's visit was chiefly to secure for Tazewell the best possible date, and other considerations, looking to the success of our Fair next Fall. The dates finally fixed upon for the Fairs of Southwest Virginia were as follows:

Galax, September 3-5; Princeton, September 10-13; Tazewell, September 17-20; Roanoke September 24-27. This date of September 17th, 18th and 19th suits Tazewell much better than earlier dates. The Agricultural department would suffer materially if an earlier date had been fixed. Mr. Pobst says that Captain Walton, the new President of the Circuit, is deeply interested in the success of the Fairs in his circuit, and will put not only his time but his money into them.

At a called meeting of the executive committee of the Fair Association held a short time ago, among other important questions discussed, was the propriety of erecting another building to be known as General Exhibit Building for such articles as coal, minerals, sewing machines, musical instruments, etc. Last year the Domestic and Fancy Work Departments, as well as the Agricultural building, were all over crowded. These departments will grow and require more room as the years go by. A cheap but substantial building for general exhibits with a wide-awake Superintendent, could be easily and profitably filled, and would be in the line of progress. The proposition met with favor, and will be further considered at a future meeting.

Great Show This Month.

Ever anxious to offer the most, newest and novel acts regardless of cost or trouble, Ernest Haag, this season, presents among a grand profusion of awe inspiring marvels of the Mighty Haag shows, the incomparable aerial Lamonts. Each and every member of this matchless troupe seemingly control the law of gravitation in each of their many death defying deeds of daring.

Of them it may be truthfully said that they begin where all other aerialists stop, working on apparatus at the uppermost top of the huge canvas dome, and without a net or safeguard of any kind to meet them, those venturesome men and women execute their hair-raising stunts with the same unconcern the average person partakes of a dinner. Wherever seen they are proclaimed by press and public premiers of their dangerous profession.

The Mighty Haag shows will exhibit April 24th., afternoon and evening, in Tazewell, at which time show-goers of this vicinity will be afforded an opportunity of seeing this wonderful troupe. It is, however, only one of the several mighty feature acts to be placed on view.

By these shows which do not now have, and never have had, room for threadbare and worn out numbers, imitators are never tolerated, and as a result every name upon the program of these shows is that of an original or in his or her respective line. It is because of all this that the Mighty Haag shows are today alone and unrivaled.

STAR MILLING CO.

Cabbage Plants.

Owing to the continued wet weather of last two weeks a large number of the editor's cabbage plants spoiled—rotted and moulded. A new lot will be in the last of this week, and orders already received will be shipped promptly. Send in your orders at once. One dozen, 10 cents; 3 dozen, 25 cents. If by mail add one cent per dozen for postage. The plants are the Early Jersey Wakefield, strong and rapid growing if put out and cared for properly. Cold weather doesn't hurt them.

Benbow.

Benbow, April 4.—Mr. Editor: For fear our friends in other parts of the country think us dead or gone somewhere, we beg space for two or three items in your most excellent paper.

Mrs. T. T. Turner and daughter, Miss Carene, were visiting the family of Mr. John Thompson in Tazewell last week.

Our Sunday School which has been in winter quarters for several months, will be re-organized next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Miss Grace Buchanan, who taught school at Ashberry's the past winter is at home now as her school has closed. Her many friends gladly welcome her back to the community.

It is thought that winter has broken as our friend, T. T. Turner bought a plow point yesterday, and says he wants to begin to turn soil next week, and W. E. Walk says he wants to begin to fence his corn ground about the same time, the weather permitting.

Rev. Mr. Carson preached an unusually good sermon at the White church last Sunday afternoon.

Miss Kathlene Saville, who has had charge of the primary department of the High School at this place, left for her home at Lexington Monday, having closed her school last week.

We are glad to report Mrs. Sallie Wimmer, who has been quite sick all winter, as being much improved at this writing.

As you are always giving Thompson Valley the blackeye, we are going to tell you of one little shipment of eggs made by Mr. Joe P. Neal this week. Mr. Neal has shipped twelve hundred dozen eggs this week, and has several more crates on hand at present. All of these eggs were bought by Mr. Neal at his store and the greater part of them furnished by Thompson Valley hens, only a few of them coming from Poor Valley. And we would have you remember that there are two other good stores in this valley, which buy great quantities of eggs also. Can Burke's Garden, Clear Fork, or any other community beat this for one week's shipment or if any other part of the county has a bigger egg story on hand we would like to hear it.

Many of our citizens are wondering why Tazewell county cannot build roads with convict labor like many other counties are doing. Is there a good reason?

PISGAH.

Pisgah, April 2.—Our Sunday School will be organized next Sunday and we hope everybody will unite and try to make it a success.

Mrs. Pearl Winborn and little daughter, of Graham, have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Capitola Crockett the past week.

Miss Annie Crockett was shopping in Tazewell last Tuesday.

Mr. Oliver Moore went to Tazewell last Friday night to act as musician at the dance given there.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins were visiting at Maxwell yesterday.

Miss Martha Hopkins arrived Saturday afternoon from Tazewell High School to spend Sunday with parents.

Devco Takes Least Gallons: Always

Paint Devco; it's the cheapest paint in the world; never mind the price; it may or may not be more. Less gallons will paint the house; and the paint will outwear anything.

Skip wear; you've got to wait, to find that out. It covers more; you haven't got to wait to find that out.

It's the cheapest of all; no matter about the price.

M. A. Thomas, painter, Lynchburg, Va., writes: "The first job I did with your paint I estimated 37 gallons; had 12 gallons left. Since then I have used Devco altogether and recommend it to all my customers. When I commence a job, I tack up a card reading as follows: M. A. Thomas, contractor; Devco Paint. That's how. Sold by John E. Jackson.

Gratton.

Gratton, April 2.—The farmers are very busy these pretty days, making the dirt fly and building fence.

Little Herbert Calloway, of Pocahontas, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. W. R. Burton, at this place.

Mrs. W. R. Burton returned home Tuesday from an extended visit in the coal fields. She was looking after her new grandson, which arrived at Mrs. R. C. Cooper's on the 25th of February. Mrs. Burton has been real sick with grip, but is better at this writing.

The Rev. W. W. Hicks began a meeting at Concord Saturday, which will continue two weeks.

Joseph Blackwell was visiting his sister, Mrs. Charles Burton last week. The people in this community are much elated over the prospect of the road to be built soon.

Mrs. P. G. Baugh has not been at all well lately, but we hope that balmy spring and summer weather will restore her health.

WITTENS MILLS SCHOOL CLOSSES

Profitable Session Closes With Enjoyable Entertainment.

The closing exercises of the Witten's Mills school on last Tuesday night, from all accounts, was a great success. The editor was forced by circumstances to deny himself the pleasure of accepting a kind invitation to be present, but reports from several who were present, indicate that the occasion did great credit to both teachers and pupils.

Rev. Mr. Hall, pastor of the Presbyterian church, opened the services with prayer. The lengthy and interesting program, consisting of songs, dialogues, speeches, plays, pantomimes, recitations, etc., was beautifully rendered. The building was packed with young people and proud patrons of the school and visitors. The parting song, "Auld Lang Syne" was sung by the school, and teachers and pupils parted, some of them to meet no again, perhaps.

The school was taught this year by Prof. James E. Witt, as Principal, Mr. W. L. Carson, first assistant, and Miss Brenda Wright, second assistant. These faithful workers have made an enviable record. The patrons of the school and the pupils as well, are said to be highly pleased with the school. There is a great deal of difference in the make-up of communities. In some localities teaching school is a difficult task. There are "fusses and factions," criticisms and fault findings. So many patrons know more than the teachers. This does not seem to fit Witten's Mills community. They are sensible, reasonable people. Not too exacting, not too hard to please. While deserving and wanting the best they are not inhuman to weaknesses and difficulties. And, of course, they gave hearty co-operation to the teachers of their children, and the result was a fine year's work. Whether Prof. Witt and his assistants will return to this field or not next year is not known now, but they have the consciousness of work well and satisfactorily performed. Witten's Mills community is coming to the front. Good roads and good schools, day and Sunday Schools, go together, and will elevate any community. Next year Witten's Mills will have a better school, better church attendance, better Sunday Schools, because there will be better means of transportation, and everybody will think they are somebody. Congratulations to the good people—teachers and all—at Witten's Mills.
